

Contents

Notes on contributors	ix
Editors' introduction	xiii
DANIELE DE SANTIS AND EMILIANO TRIZIO
PART I
Essays	1
1. Phenomenology's Platonic configuration	3
THOMAS ARNOLD
2. Husserl's reform of logic: An introduction	16
CARLOS LOBO
3. Learning as recollection: Time and idealities in Plato and Husserl	49
IGNACIO QUEPONS
4. Husserl's aesthetic of essences: Critical remarks on phenomenology as an eidetic and "exact" science	70
GEORGE HEFFERNAN
5. Aristotelian echoes in Husserl's ethics: Character, decision, and philosophy as the highest good	84
MARTA UBIALI
6. On the Aristotelian underpinnings of Husserl's ethics of vocation	102
WILLIAM TULLIUS
7. A twist of history: Analogy, being and Husserl's unexpected proximity to Aristotle	124
EMANUELE MARIANI
8. Having the right attitudes	142
JOHN J. DRUMMOND

9. The infinite Academy: Husserl on how to be a Platonist with some (Aristotelian?) help CLAUDIO MAJOLINO	164
10. Phenomenology and ancient Greek philosophy: Methodological protocols and two specimens of interpretation—Part I BURT C. HOPKINS	222
11. The phenomenologizing subject as an active power: An Aristotelian model for Husserl’s theory of subjectivity DANILO MANCA	247
12. Aristotle and Husserl on the relationship between the necessity of a fact and contingency IRENE BREUER	269
PART II Translation	297
13. The ambiguity of the concept of essence (1912/1913) ADOLF REINACH (ENGLISH TRANSLATION AND INTRODUCTION BY KIMBERLY BALTZER-JARAY)	299
PART III Varia	305
14. Tragedy and phenomenality STEVEN G. CROWELL	307
15. The goods of ecological communities ADAM KONOPKA	321
16. Leonard Nelson and Edmund Husserl on the foundations of scientific philosophy BIAGIO G. TASSONE	340
17. Perceptual constitution in Husserl’s phenomenology: The primacy of tactual intentionality FOTINI VASSILIOU	362
18. Review of S. Centrone, Versuche über Husserl (Meiner Verlag: Hamburg, 2013) DANIELE DE SANTIS	384

19. Socrates-Buddha	398
EDMUND HUSSERL (ENGLISH TRANSLATION BY ARUN IYER)
20. In Memoriam: Lester Embree (1938–2017)	416
CLEVIS HEADLEY AND MICHAEL BARBER
Index	419