

Contents

Notes on contributors	ix
Editors' introduction: emotions, moods, and feelings in the phenomenological tradition	xiii
RODNEY K. B. PARKER AND IGNACIO QUEPONS
PART I
Articles	1
1 Emotions, value, and action JOHN J. DRUMMOND	3
2 Erotic perception: intersubjectivity, history, and shame ANTHONY J. STEINBOCK	26
3 Colorations and moods in Husserl's Studien zur Struktur des Bewusstseins (with a final hint towards the coloring of life) ANTONIO ZIRIÓN QUIJANO	41
4 Self-conscious emotions: reflections on their bipolarity, normativity, and perspectivity THIEMO BREYER	76
5 Is feeling something knowing something? on the intentionality of feelings in Husserl's early writings (1894–1913) MARIA GYEMANT	87
6 Feeling as the ground of striving? the contribution of Alexander Pfänder MARIANO CRESPO	109
7 Scheler's phenomenology of emotive life in the context of his ethical program: achievements and abeyances PANOS THEODOROU	121

vi Contents

8	Phenomenological approaches to hatred: Scheler, Pfänder, and Kolnai ÍNGRID VENDRELL FERRAN	158
9	Stein and the “rainbow of emotions”: empathy and emotional experience ELISA MAGRÌ	180
10	Sensibility, values and selfhood: for a phenomenology of the emotional life ROBERTA DE MONTICELLI	195
11	On axiological and practical objectivity: do Husserl’s considerations about objectivity in the axiological and practical realms demand a phenomenological account of dialogue? ESTEBAN MARÍN ÁVILA	212
12	Feeling value: a systematic phenomenological account of the original mode of presentation of value SØREN ENGELSEN	231
13	Can emotions be directly moral? reflections on the recent book by Anthony Steinbock JAKUB ČAPEK	248
PART II
Documents		259
14	The knowledge of other egos THEODOR LIPPS (EDITED AND WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY TIMOTHY A. BURNS, TRANSLATION BY MARCO CAVALLARO)	261
15	A sketch of a short phenomenological treatise on living and dying MARC RICHIR (INTRODUCTION BY PABLO POSADA VARELA, TRANSLATION BY NICOLÁS GARRERA-TOLBERT.)	283
PART III
Varia		297
16	The external world – whole and parts: A Husserlian hermeneutics of the early ontology of Hedwig Conrad-Martius RONNY MIRON	299

17	Husserl's scientific context, 1917–1938: A look into Husserl's private library	317
	MIRJA HARTIMO
18	Heidegger on the absoluteness of death	338
	NATE ZUCKERMAN
	Index	363